

SARAH ISOBEL [SADE] [1882 – 1931]

Sade (Sarah) Sade was 12 years old when my mother was born and I believe she must have they must have slept together on a regular basis. Sade contracted tuberculosis and my mother had a scar on her lungs indicating she had had it but it was not discovered and she was healthy enough she was able to fight it and cure.

Sade attended Mount Allison Ladies' college and received her piano teacher's diploma in 1904. She did not marry and in her last 4 years of life, she moved to California to be with her much younger sister Doris who was a nurse and a Christian Scientist. She died of TB when she was just 49 years old.
